

United EWR-SJU Widebody Service Now 6 Days a Week

Beginning December 16, United will expand our EWR-SJU-EWR widebody service to six flights per week. We will now operate this route with Boeing 777-200 equipment daily except Tuesday. This expansion benefits United Cargo customers across the globe, as it enables quicker transport of greater quantities of widebody-only freight between our New York/Newark hub and Puerto Rico.

Here are the details of United's EWR-SJU-EWR widebody service effective December 16:

Flight #	City Pair	Departs	Arrives	DOW	Equipment	ULDs Accepted
UA 1523	EWR-SJU	8:30 a.m.	1:15 p.m.	Daily except Tuesday	Boeing 777-200	L3, L4/8, L11, L7/P6
UA 1173	SJU-EWR	3:15 p.m.	6:20 p.m.	Daily except Tuesday	Boeing 777-200	L3, L4/8, L11, L7/P6

United's EWR hub is one of the best assets held by any cargo carrier servicing the New York area. United offers more than 400 daily departures from EWR to over 150 destinations: the most in North America, the most across the Atlantic, the most across the Pacific and the most to and from Latin America. We operate widebody nonstop flights between EWR and 26 different cities and supplement our flights with an extensive trucking network to several U.S. Northeast cities.

This expanded widebody service especially benefits customers of United Cargo's TempControl service for commodities requiring temperature-controlled transport. Puerto Rico is the fifth-largest pharmaceutical manufacturing territory in the world, and there are 49 FDA-approved pharma plants on the island. Our new widebodies through EWR provide TempControl customers more connectivity to and from SJU than ever before. To further support Newark's growing importance as a pharmaceutical hub, we opened our new EWR TempControl Center earlier this year.

No matter what you're shipping or from where, we invite you to take advantage of United's expanded widebody service between EWR and SJU.
